2025 WIMBLEDON
MEN'S SINGLES FINAL NOTES
Sunday 13 July

NO. 1 JANNIK SINNER (ITA) v NO. 2 CARLOS ALCARZ (ESP)

Player	Age	Ranking	Titles won	Best Wimbledon performance	Best Grand Slam performance
No. 1 Jannik Sinner (ITA)	23	1	19	Final 2025	Won 3 titles
No. 2 Carlos Alcaraz (ESP)	22	2	21	Won title 2023, 2024	Won 5 titles

A Wimbledon three-peat for Alcaraz…
After winning the title here in 2023 and 2024, Carlos Alcaraz is bidding to become the 5th player in the Open Era to win 3 consecutive Wimbledon men's singles titles – after Bjorn Borg, Pete Sampras, Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic. Alcaraz is also bidding to join Borg as the 2nd player in the Open Era to win back-to-back men's singles titles at Roland Garros and Wimbledon in consecutive years. Aged 22 years 69 days, he is also looking to become the 2nd-youngest player in the Open Era to win 6 Grand Slam titles. Only Borg won 6 major titles at a younger age, claiming his 6th Grand Slam title at 1978 Wimbledon aged 22 years 32 days.

… or a first Wimbledon title for Sinner?
Jannik Sinner is aiming to become the first Italian player to win a Wimbledon singles title – after runner-up finishes for compatriots Matteo Berrettini in 2021 and Jasmine Paolini last year. Victory for Sinner would also see him claim his 4th Grand Slam title, extending his all-time record for most Grand Slam singles titles won by an Italian player. By reaching the final here, he has become the 11th player in the Open Era to reach the men's singles final at all 4 Grand Slam tournaments – and he will be keen to avenge his defeat to Alcaraz in the epic final the pair contested at Roland Garros last month.

Prize money
Today's champion receives £3,000,000 in prize money, while the runner-up collects £1,520,000. In total, the prize fund for the men's singles event at 2025 Wimbledon is £19,414,000.

Sinner and Alcaraz consolidate status as world's Top 2
Sinner and Alcaraz are guaranteed to remain as world No. 1 and world No. 2, respectively, when the new ATP rankings are published on Monday, regardless of the result of today's final. Following his semifinal finish here, Taylor Fritz is projected to move from No. 5 to No. 4 – the only change to the world Top 5 following Wimbledon this year.

The Alcaraz-Sinner duopoly

Since the start of the 2024 season, Sinner and Alcaraz have each won 3 Grand Slam titles, with Alcaraz recovering from 0-2 down to defeat Sinner in the final at Roland Garros earlier this month. That match was the pair's first meeting in a Grand Slam final.

Four other players have reached Grand Slam finals in that time – Alexander Zverev with 2 runner-up finishes, and Novak Djokovic, Daniil Medvedev and Fritz with one runner-up finish each.

Channel Slam showdown

By reaching the final here, Sinner and Alcaraz have become the 6th pair of players in history to contest the men's singles final at both Roland Garros and Wimbledon in the same year – and just the 2nd pair to do so in the Open Era, after Roger Federer and Rafael Nadal in 2006-08.

Top 2 seeds

This is the 17th time in the Open Era that the Top 2 seeds have contested the Wimbledon men's singles final. In the previous 16 meetings, No. 1 seeds lead No. 2 seeds 10-6. It is also the 54th time in the Open Era that the Top 2 seeds have contested a Grand Slam men's singles final. In the previous 53 meetings, No. 1 seeds lead No. 2 seeds 27-26.

With the Top 2 seeds also having met in the men's singles final at the 2025 Australian Open (No. 1 Sinner defeated No. 2 Zverev) and 2025 Roland Garros (No. 2 Alcaraz defeated No. 1 Sinner), this is the 2nd season in the Open Era where the Top 2 seeds have met in the men's singles final at the first 3 Grand Slam tournaments of the year – after 1978, when No. 1 seed Borg defeated No. 2 seed Guillermo Vilas in the final at Roland Garros, No. 1 seed Borg defeated No. 2 seed Jimmy Connors in the final at Wimbledon and No. 2 seed Connors defeated No. 1 seed Borg in the final at the US Open. (NB the Australian Open was played as the last Grand Slam tournament of the year between 1977 and 1985)

This is the first time that the Top 2 seeds have met in the men's singles final at 3 consecutive Grand Slam events since 2015-16. The Top 2 seeds met in 4 consecutive Grand Slam finals from 2015 Wimbledon through 2016 Roland Garros, with Djokovic winning 4 consecutive Grand Slam titles as No. 1 seed – he defeated No. 2 Federer in the final at both 2015 Wimbledon and the 2015 US Open and defeated No. 2 Andy Murray in the final at both the 2016 Australian Open and 2016 Roland Garros.

World No. 1 v World No. 2

With both the Australian Open and Roland Garros men's singles finals this year also having been contested by the world No. 1 and world No. 2, this is the first season in the Open Era where the world No. 1 and world No. 2 have contested the men's singles final at 3 Grand Slam tournaments. (NB In 1978, world No. 1 Connors did not compete at Roland Garros and Borg was ranked No. 3 but seeded No. 1 at Wimbledon.)

This is also the first time that the world No. 1 and world No. 2 have contested 3 consecutive Grand Slam men's singles finals since 2015 Wimbledon-2016 Roland Garros, when the world No. 1 and world No. 2 contested 4 consecutive Grand Slam men's singles finals.

The youth of today

With Sinner (23 years 331 days) and Alcaraz (22 years 69 days) reaching the final here, this is the youngest Wimbledon men's singles final in terms of combined age since 2006 – when Federer (24 years 335 days) defeated Nadal (20 years 36 days). It is also the first Wimbledon men's singles final not to feature a player in their 30s since 2016 – when Murray (29 years 56 days) defeated Milos Raonic (25 years 196 days).

This is the first Wimbledon men's singles final to be contested by a pair of players born in the 2000s and the first Wimbledon men's singles final not to feature a player born in the 1980s since 2001 – when Goran Ivanisevic defeated Patrick Rafter, both of whom were born in the 1970s.

With Iga Swiatek (24 years 42 days) and Amanda Anisimova (23 years 315 days) contesting the women's singles final here, 2025 Wimbledon is the first Grand Slam tournament where all 4 singles finalists were born in the 2000s.

A 13th Tour-level meeting between Sinner and Alcaraz, their 5th at a Grand Slam and their 2nd at Wimbledon or on grass.

Alcaraz won the pair's only previous meeting in a Grand Slam final, at Roland Garros last month, recording his first successful comeback from 0-2 down to win in 5 sets. He saved 3 championship points during the 4th set. At 5 hours 29 minutes, it was the longest Roland Garros singles final in the Open Era and the 2nd-longest Grand Slam singles final in the Open Era, after Djokovic's 5-hour 53-minute victory against Nadal at the 2012 Australian Open.

Alcaraz leads the pair's head-to-head at the Grand Slams 3-1 – but Sinner won their only previous meeting at Wimbledon, a 4-set victory in the round of 16 in 2022. Alcaraz has won all 3 of the Grand Slam matches the pair have contested since then. He has also not lost a match at Wimbledon since falling to Sinner here in 2022.

This is the pair's 4th consecutive meeting in a tournament final, after victories for Alcaraz in the finals at 2024 Beijing and at both Rome-1000 and Roland Garros this year. Alcaraz leads the head-to-head in finals 3-1 – Sinner won their first meeting in a tournament final at 2022 Umag.

Sinner and Alcaraz met once below Tour-level – in the 1st round at the 2019 Alicante Challenger (ESP), which was held at the Ferrero Tennis Academy in Villena. Both players had received wild cards into the main draw. Sinner was 17 years old, ranked at No. 319 and contesting the main draw at a Challenger-level event for the 5th time. Alcaraz was 15 years old and did not have an ATP ranking. He was contesting the 4th event of his professional career, and first at Challenger-level. His victory against Sinner in that match was the 10th match-win of his professional career.

Sinner led the pair's Tour-level head-to-head 4-3 prior to the 2024 season – but Alcaraz has won the pair's last 5 meetings since then. Sinner's last victory against Alcaraz came in the semifinals at 2023 Beijing.

Sinner has a 98-9 win-loss record since the start of the 2024 season. Of his 9 defeats, 5 have come against Alcaraz, with one defeat against each of Alexander Bublik, Medvedev, Andrey Rublev and Stefanos Tsitsipas. Alcaraz is the only player that Sinner has faced on multiple occasions since the beginning of the 2024 season and failed to defeat.

Alexander Bublik	2025 Halle	2nd round	36 63 64

Sinner's defeat to Alcaraz in the final at 2025 Rome-1000 was his first straight-sets loss since he fell to Djokovic 63 63 in the final at the 2023 ATP Finals, ending a streak of 94 matches in which he had won at least one set. His defeat to Bublik in the 2nd round at 2025 Halle was the first tournament where he failed to reach at least the quarterfinals since 2023 Paris-1000, where he gave a walkover to Alex de Minaur in the 3rd round.

Sinner v Top 2

Sinner is facing a Top 2 player on grass for the 2nd time. He lost the only previous match he has played against a Top 2 player on grass – to No. 2 Novak Djokovic in the semifinals here in 2023. The highest-ranked player he has defeated on grass is No. 6 Djokovic in the semifinals here this year.

Sinner is bidding to defeat a Top 2 player at a Grand Slam for the 3rd time. He has a 2-3 win-loss record against players ranked at No. 1 or No. 2 at the Grand Slams, with both victories coming at the Australian Open – against No.1 Djokovic in the semifinals in 2024 and No. 2 Zverev in the final this year. He has a 6-8 win-loss record against players ranked at No. 1 or No. 2 at Tour-level overall.

Alcaraz v World No. 1

Alcaraz is facing a world No. 1 on grass for the first time. The highest-ranked players he has faced on grass are No. 2 Medvedev in the 2nd round here in 2021, when he lost, and No. 2 Djokovic in the final here in 2023 and 2024, winning on both occasions.

Alcaraz won the only match he has played against a world No. 1 at the Grand Slams – against Sinner in the final at Roland Garros. He has a 4-1 win-loss record against No. 1- ranked players at Tour-level, with his only defeat to a world No. 1 coming against Djokovic in the semifinals at the 2023 ATP Finals.

- By completing the set of Grand Slam final appearances on his 23rd Grand Slam appearance, Sinner has gone 3rd on the Open Era list for fewest Grand Slam appearances before reaching the men's singles final at all 4 Grand Slam tournaments – behind Courier and Agassi, who completed the set of Grand Slam final appearances on, respectively, their 19th and 22nd Grand Slam appearances.

- By completing the set of Grand Slam final appearances on his 6th Grand Slam appearance since reaching his first Grand Slam final at the 2024 Australian Open, Sinner has set the Open Era record for shortest gap between reaching a first Grand Slam men's singles final and completing the set of Grand Slam final appearances. The record was previously held by Courier, who completed the set of Grand Slam final appearances on his 9th Grand Slam appearance after reaching his first Grand Slam final.

- By reaching the final here, Sinner has recorded his best Wimbledon result. His previous best result here was reaching the semifinals in 2023 (I. Djokovic).

- Last year here, as No. 1 seed, Sinner reached the quarterfinals. He defeated Yannick Hanfmann, Berrettini, Miomir Kecmanovic and Ben Shelton before falling to Daniil Medvedev in 5 sets.

- Sinner is a 3-time Grand Slam champion. He won his first Grand Slam title at the 2024 Australian Open, recovering from 0-2 down to defeat Medvedev in 5 sets in the final. He also won the title at the 2024 US Open (d. Taylor Fritz), before successfully defending his title at the Australian Open this year (d. Alexander Zverev). He became the 5th player in the Open Era to win 3 consecutive hard court Grand Slam men's singles titles – and the first since Djokovic in 2011-12.

- Elsewhere in Grand Slam play this year, Sinner reached the final at Roland Garros for the first time, falling to Alcaraz in 5 sets despite leading 2-0. At 5 hours 29 minutes, it was the longest Roland Garros singles final in the Open Era and the 2nd-longest Grand Slam singles final in the Open Era, after Djokovic's 5-hour 53-minute victory over Nadal at the 2012 Australian Open.

- Prior to Wimbledon this year, Sinner reached the 2nd round at Halle (d. Hanfmann, l. Alexander Bublik). It was the first time that he had failed to reach at least the quarterfinals at an event since 2023 Paris-1000, where he gave a walkover to Alex de Minaur in the 3rd round due to fatigue, ending a streak of 19 Tour-level events reaching at least the quarterfinal stage.

- Sinner is contesting his 5th event of the 2025 season here. In addition to his title at the Australian Open, runner-up finish at Roland Garros and 2nd round finish at Halle, he also finished runner-up at Rome-1000 (l. Alcaraz).

- Sinner is bidding to win his 2nd Tour-level title on grass and become the 2nd Italian man in the Open Era to win multiple Tour-level titles on grass – after Berrettini, who has won 4 Tour-level titles on grass. Sinner's only Tour-level title on grass came at 2024 Halle (d. Hubert Hurkacz) in his first event as world No. 1. He is one of 4 Italian men to have won a Tour-level title on grass in the Open Era – alongside Berrettini (4 grass court titles) and Andreas Seppi and Lorenzo Sonego (both one).

- Sinner has won one of the last 7 five-set matches he has contested, with his only victory in a 5-set match in that time coming against Medvedev in the final at the 2024 Australian Open. He has lost both 5-set matches he has contested at Wimbledon – in the quarterfinals in both 2022, when he lost to Djokovic in 5 sets despite holding a 2-0 lead, and last year against Medvedev. He has a 6-10 win-loss record in 5-set matches overall.

- Sinner became world No. 1 for the first time following Roland Garros last year and has remained there since then. He began his 57th week as world No. 1 on Monday. He will remain world No. 1 following Wimbledon regardless of the result today.

- Sinner reached a career-high junior ranking of No. 133 and did not contest the boys' singles events at any of the Grand Slam tournaments. His best result as a junior was reaching the quarterfinals as a wild card at the Grade A Trofeo Bonfiglio event in Milan in 2018 (l. Naoki Tajima).

- Sinner led Italy to their 3rd Davis Cup title in 2024, successfully defending their title from 2023. He won all 4 matches he played across singles and doubles at the Final 8 Knockout Stage in Malaga in November. He made his Davis Cup debut in 2021 and has a 15-4 overall win-loss record in the competition. Italy have received a wild card for the 2025 Davis Cup Final 8 Knockout Stage in Bologna in November.

- Sinner is coached by Simone Vagnozzi and Darren Cahill.

- ALCARAZ is bidding to win his 3rd consecutive title here and become the 5th player in the Open Era to win 3 consecutive Wimbledon men's singles titles. This is his 5th Wimbledon appearance and his 18th Grand Slam overall.

Borg and Nadal (both 8 Grand Slam final appearances aged 22 or under) and Jim Courier and Mats Wilander (both 7) are the only men in the Open Era to have reached more Grand Slam finals aged 22 or under than Alcaraz.

- In Grand Slam play this year, Alcaraz recovered from 0-2 down to defeat Sinner in 5 sets in the 2025 final. At 5 hours 29 minutes, the 2025 final was the longest Roland Garros singles final in the Open Era and the 2nd-longest Grand Slam singles final in the Open Era, after Djokovic's 5-hour 53-minute victory against Nadal at the 2012 Australian Open. He also reached the quarterfinals at the Australian Open (l. Djokovic).

- Prior to Wimbledon this year, Alcaraz won the title at Queen's (d. Jiri Lehecka). It was his 2nd title at Queen's, having also won the title there in 2023 (d. Alex de Minaur), and his 4th Tour-level title on grass overall.

- Alcaraz is bidding to become the 4th man in the Open Era to win back-to-back titles at Queen's and Wimbledon on multiple occasions – after McEnroe (1981 and 1984), Sampras (1995 and 1999) and Andy Murray (2013 and 2016). In 2023, he became the 8th man in the Open Era to have won back-to-back titles at Queen's and Wimbledon – alongside McEnroe, Murray, Sampras, Becker (1985), Jimmy Connors (1982), Lleyton Hewitt (2002) and Nadal (2008).

- Alcaraz has won 35 of the 38 Tour-level grass-court matches he has contested. His only defeats on grass came against Daniil Medvedev in the 2nd round here in 2021, against Sinner in the round of 16 here in 2022 and against Jack Draper in the 2nd round at 2024 Queen's.

- Alcaraz leads the Tour for most singles titles won in 2025, having won 5 titles so far this season. In addition to his titles at Roland Garros and Queen's, he also won the titles at Rotterdam (d. Alex de Minaur), Monte Carlo-1000 (d. Lorenzo Musetti) and Rome-1000 (d. Sinner). He also finished runner-up at Barcelona (l. Holger Rune) and reached the semifinals at Indian Wells-1000 (l. Draper).

- Alcaraz is bidding to record his 25th consecutive Tour-level match-win and extend his longest Tour-level winning streak. He has not lost a match since falling to Rune in the final at Barcelona. His previous best Tour-level winning streak was 14 matches, which he recorded on 2 occasions – from 2022 Barcelona through the round of 16 at 2022 Roland Garros and from 2023 Queen's through the 3rd round at 2023 Toronto-1000.

- Alcaraz is bidding to become the 3rd active male player to record a streak of 25 Tour-level match-wins – after Djokovic (who has recorded streaks of 25 or more Tour-level victories on 4 occasions) and Sinner (who recorded a streak of 26 Tour-level victories in 2024-25).

- Alcaraz has won 14 of the 15 five-set matches he has contested – including his 5-set victory against Fabio Fognini in the 1st round here this year. His only defeat in a 5-set match came against Matteo Berrettini in the 3rd round at the 2022 Australian Open. He has won all 11 five-set matches he has contested since then and has won all 5 five-set matches he has contested at Wimbledon.

- Aged 19 years 130 days, Alcaraz became the youngest men's world No. 1 in history after winning the title at the 2022 US Open. He has been ranked as world No. 1 for 36 weeks, most recently between June and September 2023. He plays here at No. 2.

- Alcaraz won the men's singles silver medal at the Paris 2024 Olympic Tennis Event, falling to Djokovic in the gold medal match.

- Alcaraz led Spain to victory at the 2018 Junior Davis Cup Finals, defeating France in the title match. He reached a career-high junior ranking of No. 22 in January 2020 and his best performance in the junior events at the Grand Slams was his quarterfinal finish in the boys' singles here in 2019 (I. Martin Damm).

- Alcaraz has played Davis Cup for Spain since 2022 and has a 6-2 win-loss record in the competition. Spain will play at home against Denmark in the 2025 Qualifiers 2nd Round in September.

- Alcaraz is coached by former world No. 1 Juan Carlos Ferrero, who reached the quarterfinals here in 2007 and 2009, and Samuel Lopez.
