2020 – A REVIEW

Despite the Covid-19 pandemic, which saw the tour suspended for five months between March and August, 3 Grand Slam tournaments were able to take place in 2020. The Australian and US Opens took place in their normal slots in the calendar, while Roland Garros was moved from its usual May/June dates to September/October, and Wimbledon was cancelled for the first time since World War II.

Prior to the suspension of play, Novak Djokovic won a record-extending 8th Australian Open title, defeating Dominic Thiem – who had reached his 3rd Grand Slam final, and his first in Melbourne – in 5 sets. It was the Serb's 17th Grand Slam title in total and saw him return to the world No. 1 ranking, where he remained for the rest of the 2020 season.

Thiem would finally get his hands on a Grand Slam trophy at the US Open in September, where he defeated Grand Slam final debutant Alexander Zverev in 5 sets. Thiem's recovery from 0-2 down in the title match saw him become the first player to win a Grand Slam final from 0-2 down since Gaston Gaudio at 2004 Roland Garros and the first player to achieve the feat at the US Open since Pancho Gonzales in 1949. Thiem became the first man born in the 1990s to win a Grand Slam title, the first new Grand Slam men's singles champion since Marin Cilic won the 2014 US Open, and the 150th different Grand Slam men's singles champion in history.

The final Grand Slam of the year went the way of Rafael Nadal, who had not competed at the US Open. Nadal defeated Djokovic in straight sets in the final at the rearranged Roland Garros to claim his 13th title in Paris and his 20th Grand Slam title overall, which saw him equal Roger Federer's all-time record for most Grand Slam men's singles titles. Nadal is one of just 5 players, men or women, to have won 20 or more Grand Slam singles titles.

DJOKOVIC AIMS FOR NINTH AUSSIE CROWN

Defending champion Djokovic is bidding to win his 9th Australian Open title and extend his lead at the top of the list for most Australian men's singles titles.

NADAL LOOKS TO OVERTAKE FEDERER

Nadal is bidding to win his 21st Grand Slam title and claim sole ownership of the record for most Grand Slam men's singles titles of all-time, ahead of Federer. By equalling Federer's mark of 20 Grand Slam titles last year, Nadal drew level with Federer in terms of number of Grand Slam titles won for the first time.

NADAL EYES CAREER GRAND SLAM DOUBLE

Nadal is bidding to become the first man in the Open Era – and only the 3rd man in history – to win each of the 4 Grand Slam titles twice. Roy Emerson and Rod Laver are the only players to have won each Grand Slam on 2 or more occasions. (NB While Laver completed the feat in 1969, some of the titles were won before the start of the Open Era.)

THE 30s CLUB

Djokovic (33 years 275 days) is bidding to win his 3rd Australian Open title since turning 30 and become the first man in the Open Era to win 3 Australian Open titles aged 30 or older.

In the Open era, the Australian Open men's singles title has been won by players aged 30 or over on 11 occasions – including for the last 4 years.

Players aged 30+ to win the Australian Open men's singles title (Open Era)

Player	Age	Year	Result in final
Ken Rosewall	37 years 62 days	1972	Defeated Mal Anderson 76(2) 63 75

Petr Korda	30 years 9 days	1998	Defeated Marcelo Rios 62 62 62

Djokovic is also bidding to win his 6th Grand Slam titles since turning 30 and equal Nadal's Open Era record for most Grand Slam men's singles titles won after the age of 30. At 34 years 263 days, Nadal is bidding to win his 7th Grand Slam title since turning 30 and extend his record, having won his 6th Grand Slam title since turning 30 when aged 34 years 130 days at Roland Garros last year.

Stan Wawrinka is bidding to win his 3rd Grand Slam title since turning 30 and become the 6th man in the Open Era to win 3 or more major titles after their 30th birthday.

Stan Wawrinka	2 (2015 Roland Garros, 2016 US Open)

DECADES APART

If Djokovic wins the title here more than 13 years after his first Grand Slam title, he will claim sole ownership of 4th place on the Open Era list for the largest gap between first and most recent Grand Slam title wins. Serena Williams, Nadal and Federer are the only players in the Open Era whose Grand Slam title wins have spanned a longer period than Djokovic.

Largest gap between first and most recent Grand Slam singles titles (Open Era)

Player	First Grand Slam title	Most recent Grand Slam title	Time between first and most recent Grand Slam titles
Serena Williams	1999 US Open	2017 Australian Open	17 years, 5 months
Rafael Nadal	2005 Roland Garros	2020 Roland Garros	15 years, 4 months
Roger Federer	2003 Wimbledon	2018 Australian Open	14 years, 7 months
Novak Djokovic	2008 Australian Open	2020 Australian Open	12 years

Andre Agassi	1992 Wimbledon	2003 Australian Open	10 years, 7 months
Boris Becker	1985 Wimbledon	1996 Australian Open	10 years, 7 months

Djokovic and Nadal have both won Grand Slam titles in the 2000s, 2010s and 2020s – they are the only 2 men to have won Grand Slam singles titles in 3 different decades in the Open Era. Serena Williams (who won at least one major title in the 1990s, 2000s and 2010s) and Martina Navratilova (1970s, 1980s and 1990s) are the only women who have achieved the feat in the Open Era.

A SECOND SLAM FOR THIEM?

Thiem is bidding to win his 2nd Grand Slam title after winning his first major title at the US Open last year. If he lifts the trophy here this year, he will become the 7th man in the Open Era – and the 14th in history – to win a 2nd Grand Slam title on his 2nd Grand Slam appearance after winning his first major title. No player has won a 2nd Grand Slam men's singles title on their next Grand Slam appearance in the Open Era.

THE NEW YORK-MELBOURNE DOUBLE

Thiem is bidding to become only the 6th man in the Open Era to win the Australian Open after winning the US Open in the previous season. Djokovic is the most-recent player to achieve the feat, having done so for the 3rd time in 2018-19. (NB Guillermo Vilas won the 1977 US Open and the 1978 Australian Open but the latter was held in December 1978 due to a scheduling change that meant there were 2 Australian Opens in 1977.)

FINAL MATCH-UPS

If top 2 seeds Djokovic and Nadal reach the final here, they will become the first pair of players to contest 10 Grand Slam men's singles finals. By contesting the final at Roland Garros last year, the pair equalled the record held by Federer and Nadal for most match-ups in Grand Slam men's singles finals in the Open Era.

Most Grand Slam men's singles finals contested (Open Era)

Players	No. of Grand Slam finals contested	Head-to-head
Novak Djokovic v Rafael Nadal	9	Nadal leads 5-4
Roger Federer v Rafael Nadal	9	Nadal leads 6-3
Novak Djokovic v Andy Murray	7	Djokovic leads 5-2
Andre Agassi v Pete Sampras	5	Sampras leads 4-1
Novak Djokovic v Roger Federer	5	Djokovic leads 4-1
Ivan Lendl v Mats Wilander	5	Wilander leads 3-2

Should Djokovic and Nadal reach the final, it will also be the 3rd time the pair have contested an Australian Open final. They would become the 2nd pair of players to contest 3 Australian Open finals, after Djokovic and Andy Murray, who have contested 4 finals here. (see table overleaf)

MOST AUSTRALIAN OPEN FINAL APPEARANCES

Djokovic surpassed Federer at the top of the list for most Australian Open final appearances in the Open Era by reaching his 8th final here last year. Nadal contested his 5th Australian Open final in 2019 and will claim sole ownership of 3rd place on the list, ahead of Stefan Edberg and Murray, if he reaches the final here this year.

NO. 1 RANKING UPDATE

Djokovic is guaranteed to remain world No. 1 when the new rankings are released on Monday 22 February. He is also guaranteed to equal Federer's record for most weeks as world No. 1 (310) on Monday 1 March.

FIVE GRAND SLAM CHAMPIONS

There are 5 Grand Slam tournament champions appearing in the 2021 Australian Open men's main draw. Three of the 5 have won the Australian Open title (Djokovic, Nadal and Wawrinka), while the other 2, Marin Cilic and Dominic Thiem, reached the final here in 2018 and 2020 respectively. Federer, Murray and Juan Martin del Potro are the only other active players to have won Grand Slam titles. (see table overleaf)

Stan Wawrinka (3)	2014 Australian Open; 2015 Roland Garros; 2016 US Open

SO NEAR YET SO FAR

Five players competing here this year have reached at least one Grand Slam final during their careers but are still bidding for their first major titles – including both No. 4 seed Daniil Medvedev and No. 6 seed Alexander Zverev. Jo-Wilfried Tsonga is the only active player to have reached a major final without winning a major title whose Grand Slam final appearance came at the Australian Open, but the Frenchman misses the event this year due to a back injury.

THE YOUNG PRETENDERS

At 22 years 193 days, No. 5 seed Stefanos Tsitsipas is looking to become the youngest Australian Open men's singles champion since Djokovic won the title here in 2008 aged 20 years 250 days. Tsitsipas would also become the youngest Grand Slam champion since Del Potro won the title at the 2009 US Open aged 20 years 355 days.

At 23 years 124 days, No. 7 seed Andrey Rublev is looking to become the youngest Australian Open men's singles champion since Nadal won the title here in 2009 aged 22 years 243 days. Like Tsitsipas, Rublev would become the youngest Grand Slam champion since Del Potro won the title at the 2009 US Open.

At 23 years 307 days, No. 6 seed Zverev is looking to become the youngest Grand Slam men's singles champion since Djokovic won the title here in 2011 aged 23 years 253 days. (NB ages calculated at the end of the tournament)

THE AUSTRALIAN CONTENDERS

Alex de Minaur leads the 13 Australian men competing at this year's Australian Open – it is the highest number of Australians to begin the men's singles main draw here since 2000, when there were also 13.

De Minaur is bidding to become the first Australian men's singles champion here since Mark Edmondson in 1976. Edmondson was also the only recorded unseeded player to win here. None of the other 3 Grand Slam tournaments has gone longer without a resident national champion.

Event	Last Native Champion
Australian Open	Mark Edmondson 1976
Roland Garros	Yannick Noah 1983
Wimbledon	Andy Murray 2016
US Open	Andy Roddick 2003

In 2005, Lleyton Hewitt became the first Australian to reach the men's final here since Pat Cash reached back-to-back finals in 1987-88. An Australian man has reached the final at a Grand Slam event only 10 times in the 127 majors since Cash's 1988 final appearance, and only once at the Australian Open. Hewitt's 2002 Wimbledon title marked the last time an Australian man won a Grand Slam title. (see table overleaf)

FROM RUSSIA WITH LOVE

No. 4 seed Medvedev and No. 7 seed Rublev are both bidding to become the 3rd Grand Slam men's singles champion from Russia. The 2 Russian men to have won Grand Slam titles have both won the Australian Open – Yevgeny Kafelnikov (who won the titles at 1996 Roland Garros and 1999 Australian Open) and Marat Safin (2000 US Open and 2005 Australian Open).

Medvedev is bidding to continue a 10-match winning streak, having won the titles at both Paris-1000 and the ATP Finals in November, while Rublev won more Tour-level men's singles titles than any other player in 2020.

CONTINUING THE MOMENTUM

Djokovic and Rublev tied in first place for most Tour-level match-wins in 2020, with 13 more victories than Medvedev and Zverev, who tied in 3rd place.

MOST AUSTRALIAN OPEN APPEARANCES

Federer is absent from the Australian Open for the first time since 1999. Feliciano Lopez appears at the tournament for the 19th occasion, having competed here every year since making his Australian Open debut in 2003. Federer's absence means that Lopez now also holds the longest active streak of Australian Open appearances.

DEFENDING THE TITLE

Djokovic successfully defended the title here last year – it was the 4th time he had successfully defended an Australian Open title and the 14th successful title-defence here in the Open Era. Historically, defending champions have had greater success at retaining the title at Wimbledon and Roland Garros (19 at each tournament in the Open Era), with the Australian Open 3rd ahead of the US Open (12).

WARMING-UP

Wawrinka and Djokovic are the only players in the last 10 years to win the Australian Open having won a pre-Australian Open tournament. Wawrinka won Chennai before lifting his first Grand Slam trophy here in 2014, while Djokovic won Doha in 2016 prior to winning his 6th title in Melbourne.

Due to the changes in the calendar this year, the usual warm-up events in Doha, Adelaide and Auckland were not held. Instead, two events were held prior to the quarantine period, with Alex de Minaur and Hubert Hurkacz winning the titles at Antalya and Delray Beach respectively. A further two individual events – the Great Ocean Road Open and the Murray River Open – were held as part of the Melbourne Summer Series following the quarantine period. Jannik Sinner defeated Stefano Travaglia to win the Great Ocean Road Open title, while Daniel Evans overcame Felix Auger-Aliassime to win the Murray River Open title.

At the 2nd edition of the ATP Cup, also hosted in Melbourne in the week before the Australian Open, Russia defeated Italy in the final on Sunday, with Rublev and Medvedev defeating Fabio Fognini and Matteo Berrettini respectively.

FIRST-TIMERS

There are 19 men making their Australian Open debuts this year. Of the 189debutants, 8 are qualifiers, 6 are direct acceptances, 3 are wild cards and 2 are lucky losers.

In the Open Era, 5 men have won the title on their Australian Open debut – Jimmy Connors (1973), Roscoe Tanner (January 1977), Vitas Gerulaitis (December 1977), Johan Kriek (1981) and Andre Agassi (1995). The last Grand Slam men's singles champion to win the title on his first appearance at that major was Nadal at 2005 Roland Garros.

Seven men are also making their Grand Slam debuts: Carlos Alcaraz, Frederico Ferreira Silva, Aslan Karatsev, Roman Safiullin, Mikael Torpegaard, Li Tu and Botic van de Zandschulp

YOUNGEST AND OLDEST

At 39 years 154 days, Lopez is the oldest man to start in the main draw here this year. There are 42 players aged 30 or older competing in the Australian Open men's singles main draw this year. The record for the most players aged 30 or over in a Grand Slam men's singles draw is 51, which was set at 2016 Roland Garros.

At 17 years 292 days, qualifier Carlos Alcaraz is the youngest man to start the main draw here this year. Alcaraz is the youngest man to compete in the main draw at the Australian Open since Thanasi Kokkinakis (17 years 291 days) in 2014. Alcaraz is also the youngest man to qualify at the Australian Open since Djokovic (17 years 253 days) in 2005.

Alcaraz is one of just 2 teenagers in the draw, alongside Jannik Sinner (19 years 189 days). (NB ages calculated at the end of the tournament)

Seven players in the main draw will celebrate their birthdays during the tournament – Marton Fucsovics (Monday 8 February), Viktor Troicki (Wednesday 10 February), Hubert Hurkacz and Daniil Medvedev (both Thursday 11 February), Jeremy Chardy (Friday 12 February), Alex de Minaur (Wednesday 17 February) and Andreas Seppi (Sunday 21 February).

FROM BOYS TO MEN

There are 6 former Australian Open junior singles champions playing in this year's main draw: Gael Monfils (2004), Bernard Tomic (2008), Jiri Vesely (2011), Nick Kyrgios (2013), Alexander Zverev (2014) and Roman Safiullin (2015).

Stefan Edberg is the only player to have won both the junior and senior title here in the Open Era. He captured the boys' singles title in 1983, before winning the men's singles in 1985 and 1987.

WILD CARDS

Home players received 7 of the 8 available wild cards: Alex Bolt, Thanasi Kokkinakis, Christopher O'Connell, Marc Polmans, Alexei Popyrin, Li Tu and Aleksandar Vukic. India's Sumit Nagal also received a wild card.

Five-time Australian Open runner-up Andy Murray was initially awarded a wild card, but he withdrew prior to the event due to illness.

MISSING OUT

Players who appeared on the original entry list but withdrew before the tournament started are as follows: Alejandro Davidovich Fokina (illness), Kyle Edmund (knee), Roger Federer (personal), Cristian Garin (left wrist), Richard Gasquet, John Isner (personal), Steve Johnson (personal), Lucas Pouille (elbow), Joao Sousa (illness), Jo-Wilfried Tsonga (back).

LEFTHANDERS

There are 17 lefthanders starting in this year's men's singles. The last lefthander to win the title here was Nadal in 2009.
